The collection of Sara Romoli conquers New York

NEW YORK CITY, NY. February 6, 2009 -- Sara Romoli (the beautiful Tuscan model who we have already talked about last year) has entered the world of fashion design.

During a recent New York fashion show dedicated to 14 emerging designers, Sara Romoli presented her new collection "New York Secret". Sara designed these sexy corsets for women who want to feel glamorous and sexy at all times. One of the most distinguishing features of Ms. Romoli's fashion models was their hair style.

Each one displayed a unique style using soft drink cans as hair rollers to emphasize the trademark look of New York Secret. Thanks to this distinctive look Sara Romoli's taste and eccentricity won her the prize of "The Best Designer of the Night".

Sara's appreciative fans include international singer Amy Rivard from Canada.
