

New York Secret by Sara Romoli collection lands in Dubai

DUBAI. November 2009 --

Fashion corsets and retro tops are back in style and our New York Secret by Sara Romoli collection that has already created excitement in Italy and New York, lands in Dubai with a model dedicated to the Emirate: Dubai Corset. The fashion corsets in the collection are designed by the international model Sara Romoli. She traveled around the world looking for unique and interesting patterns and fabrics for her designs.

The overall concept was to take something old like from La Belle Époque and put a twist on it for today's modern women. La Belle Époque was a wonderful time for fashion, a time when clothes showed off the female body with great elegance, wit and style.
